

▶ November is Knowledge-to-Action Month: Register today!

Every November, the Research Department hosts a month of collaborative events, bringing together leaders and researchers, healthcare providers and patients to learn about the importance of translating evidence into practice to improve care and outcomes. This year's events are all online, and as always, they're free.

You're invited: KNOWLEDGE -to- ACTION November!

- ▶ Tuesday, November 3 (9 am – 12 pm) - Heads Together Virtual Think Tank: Research & Prevention. Best practices to address the intersections of mental health, substance use, and brain injury. Register
- ▶ Monday, November 9 (11 pm – 12 pm) - Writing for Publication. Tips and tricks on how to find the right journal, write your manuscript, and prepare it for publication. Register
- ▶ Tuesday, November 17 (3 – 4:30 pm) - Drug-Checking: Implementing Harm Reduction in Dual Public Health Crises. One team's experience of operating and researching a drug-checking service during the deepening overdose crisis and the COVID-19 pandemic. Register
- ▶ Thursday, November 19 (11 am – 12 pm) - Engaging Indigenous Communities in the Cowichan Hospital Redesign. Hear how communities were engaged to ensure a culturally safe design process and learn what's next to redesign culturally safe health care. Register
- ▶ Friday, November 27 (12 pm – 1 pm) - Evidence-into-Practice Awards Ceremony & Presentations. Hear how this year's winners applied evidence to improve practice, care, and experience at Island Health! Register

▶ New Research Team Members - Here to Support You!

The Research team is growing! We're excited to introduce Amanda Leddy, Miranda Cary, and our new Nanaimo clinical research team.

As Regional Practice Lead, Research and Knowledge Translation in Long Term Care, Miranda will engage residents, families and direct care staff to translate existing evidence-based research into practice and support QI initiatives. She will work exclusively in the Long Term Care environment and her home base will be the Research Department. Read more about her background, and contact Miranda at Miranda.Cary@viha.ca.

As Research Facilitator, Amanda will provide guidance and support to teams on all aspects of the research process (planning, conduct and evaluation), and facilitate collaborations within and outside of Island Health. She will also oversee placement and support of research students and volunteers. Contact Amanda at Amanda.Leddy@viha.ca.

Our new Nanaimo clinical research team will offer new treatment options to COVID-19 patients on the mid-Island through clinical trials, and will coordinate non-COVID-19 trials and studies to evaluate new and existing practices. Jenna Winder, Allison Nelson, Brenda Hammer, and Andrea Cameron are the Clinical Research Nurses on the team, working with NRGH physicians Drs. David Forrest, Alastair Teale and Mark James as local investigators on two inaugural studies. The office (NRGH Room E0034) officially opened October 5 - come by to say hi, and learn more in this article!
